More roads set to benefit from unique repair training scheme

ANOTHER 80 roads in the borough are set to benefit from improvements over the next year, thanks to a unique Council scheme which gives unemployed young people the chance to learn new skills.

It's all part of the Highways Improvement & Local Labour (HILL) project, set up by Royal Greenwich in 2013 to create and train a workforce to repair minor roads and pavements as well as to install new street lighting and declutter street furniture.

Councillors on the highways committee rubber stamped the areas that are set to benefit at their meeting last Thursday (May 28).

The scheme is part of the council's commitment to improving local lives and communities by creating thousands of new jobs, housing and transport links.

Since the start of the project, 44 local young people have completed training under the scheme and 35 have already gone on to secure full-time work, or are on their work placements.

The latest group of 10 recruits are now

This isn't fun or fair

ONCE again the residents of Woolwich Common and the patients at the Queen Elizabeth Hospital have had to endure the noise from the travelling fair on the common, this time they have extended their stay to 25 days. In this day of static theme parks like Chessington and Thorpe Park, travelling fairgrounds are a throwback from Victorian times, are they really necessary anymore? The constant booming from the rides and the music rides is irritating. When I complained to the fair staff I was met with verbal abuse.
Is it a crime these days to expect a bit of peace and quiet?

G. Simpson, Woolwich

● A council spokesperson said: "Thanks for your letter and we are sorry that you have been disturbed.

The fair takes place on MOD land and does not need a licence to operate. The council's noise team has investigated your complaint. Officers from the out-of-hours noise service monitored noise on May 2 and found that no statutory noise disturbance was witnessed and the fair finished at 9pm each day. So, unfortunately, there is little the Council could do. Residents are reminded that the noise nuisance service is available on 020 8921 8921, Mon-Fri 9am-5pm, Sun-Thur 7pm-1am and Fri and Sat 7pm-2am or email noise.team@royalgreenwich.gov.uk or visit www.royalgreenwich.gov.uk/noise

Pigeon problem

I AM a veteran, on 10 May I was on my way to Eltham Well Hall Station SE9 to get the train to London and the veterans parade. I had to walk along the pavement under the railway bridge by the station in Well Hall Road SE9, I was sprayed by pigeon droppings on my face and shoulders, back, sleeve and front of my blazer. Needless to say I was not very happy and had to take time to clean most of it off. The public have to walk under this bridge, is it not about time something was done permanently to stop these pigeons roosting under this bridge over a public footpath? I am sure that I am not the only one to be sprayed by these pigeons roosting under the bridge
H.S Knight, Kidbrooke

● A Network Rail spokesperson said: "Network Rail takes the problem of nuisance pigeons extremely seriously and we are well aware of the problems that they cause to members of the public and our own workforce. We generally encourage the public to contact our 24hr helpline on 03457 11 41 41 to report the specific location of areas affected by pigeons, we will then look into taking any necessary action."

Big workshop playday

FUN was had by all the family at the Big Workshop Day last month (May 23) which took place at eight venues across the royal borough. Part of the Royal Greenwich Festivals, the day was run by Greenwich Theatre and Greenwich & Lewisham Young People's Theatre (GLYPT). There was an eclectic range of free workshops for delighted festival goers of all ages – from salsa to storytelling.

Jeremy James, artistic director of GLYPT said "There was a whole series of free workshops for the community. Big Workshop Day covered everything from carnival costume, drumming and puppetry to Bollywood dancing, circus and parkour."

Find out about fostering

by Dick Townsend-Smith

THE royal borough has produced a new DVD to attract people to come forward as foster carers.

The video aims to highlight the important role foster carers can play in encouraging and supporting young people as well as helping them to achieve good start in life.

There is a shortage of foster carers across the UK and here in Greenwich it is no different with more people in particular needed to look after teenagers.

In Royal Greenwich, the Fostering Services team has produced the 30-minute DVD featuring interviews with foster carers talking about their experiences and the challenges and rewards of fostering.

Foster carers Katie Davies and her husband Steve have looked after nearly 30 local children since they began 10 years ago. Katie said: "At the moment we have an eight-year-old boy staying with us long-term, and three-month-old twins, a boy and a girl. They were just a day old when they came to us – we didn't know what to expect, and it was quite a challenge.

"We have fostered some children for just a few weeks, and others for a few years. Steve looks after them at weekends to give me a break, and without him and help from my daughter Emily, 16, and son Joshua, 19, I couldn't do it.

"My advice to anyone interested in fostering is to come to some of our information events and find out more. It is so rewarding, and no two days are ever the same – it's an emotional roller coaster."

Cllr John Fahy, the council's cabinet member for children's services, said: "I am enormously encouraged by the commitment and dedication of foster carers who work tirelessly to support the siblings in their care and enrich their lives in so many positive ways."

● People interested in fostering can find out more at the monthly information events held at the Woolwich Centre, where the film will be screened. The next one is on 13 July.

Funds for foot tunnels

THE royal borough has been awarded £200,000 from Transport for London (TfL) to help conduct a trial to see how technology can aid safer cycling in the Greenwich and Woolwich foot tunnels. The exciting and innovative project will be developed and trialled over the coming year and aims to develop a technology-based system to permit safe cycling in the tunnels at appropriate times. At present, there is an outright ban on cycling in both foot tunnels, but as the tunnels represent a key link between the cycle networks of East and South-East London, many cyclists have asked if there is a way in which they can safely be permitted to use the tunnel. As cycling has increased in London, the need to enable easier use of the tunnels for all users has become more pressing. In 2014 the royal borough worked in partnership with the Friends of Greenwich and Woolwich Foot Tunnels (FOGWOT) to bid for funding from TfL and although this initial bid was not successful, TfL has subsequently agreed to provide funding for a trial to take place in 2015/16. Cllr Danny Thorpe, the royal borough's cabinet member for regeneration and transport said: "I'm delighted that the council, working with FOGWOT has secured funding from TfL. It will allow us to develop and trial technology which will hopefully lead to a safer system cycling, benefiting all who use the borough's foot tunnels." We are committed to helping maximising opportunities for residents to stay active and healthy and help the environment by cycling and walking. The technology based system we are hoping to develop with this

Going for GOLD

Council scheme helps residents out of poverty

by Dick Townsend-Smith

THE next career move for job trainees on the borough's new GOLD employment scheme took place at the Woolwich Centre on Thursday (May 28).

They were able to meet former apprentices, professionals and business owners from different industries to find out what opportunities could lie ahead for them.

The event aimed to build on their training and help them get a foot through the door to a new job.

The council-run GOLD scheme, which stands for Greenwich Opportunities Learning and Development is designed to help residents out of poverty by working with different agencies to tackle a whole range of issues. Examples of the support given include one-to-one support for six people who were homeless and who now have homes. They were helped with learning to read and write, and with furniture for their homes.

Others have been given counselling for debt relief, grief, mental health and domestic violence problems – more than half the women on the scheme are affected by this. This has all helped bring residents closer to the job market and improved their lives.

Since it began, 265 participants and 103 apprentices have been employed by GOLD for a minimum of six months. They have been put into council jobs, such as Cleansweep and grounds maintenance, helping play their part in creating cleaner streets, up and making the streets safer. More than 1,000 residents have benefited by a family member being enrolled on GOLD.

GOLD also provides in-house vocational and skills training, job search support, CV service and help preparing for interviews, with the aim of increasing their earnings, boosting their confidence and their sense of achievement.

Dean Nathan Delaney, a GOLD employment scheme member, told GT: "I signed up through GLLaB and I have been able to get valuable experience firstly in grounds maintenance and now as a customer service agent – two very different roles. The scheme has really benefited me, both in the short term with immediate employment as well as in the long term, giving me the skills and experience to develop over time."

Seun Kayode a trainee HR adviser said: "At today's event I was able to discuss a range of things with participants including what my experiences have taught me and what kind of things to take into account when you are part of the programme."

Actor's earthquake mercy mission

by Dick Townsend-Smith

ACTOR Edward Akrouit, best known for his role in the television series 'The Borgias', has joined the borough's relief effort for the Nepalese earthquakes.

He called in at Woolwich Town Hall to check out the many goods donated by local people, and then flew out to an orphanage in Nepal with suitcases packed with soap, toothbrushes, dried food and toys.

Nepalese community leader Sonia Thapa told GT: "We're all very happy that Edward has taken it to the orphanage for the children to play with. He got in touch with us after hearing about our appeal, and went to Nepal for nine days, taking loads of baby stuff donated in Woolwich, as well as tents.

"We have now adopted the orphanage, which has 48 children. We still need cash donations, and we will use any spare funds to support it. We also need some specialist things because monsoons are coming, and there is a big demand for tarpaulins and packet food.

"We are really pleased that the donations from Greenwich are reaching Nepal safely, against all the odds. We are feeling proud of the effort everyone has made."

HOME AND AWAY: Edward meets Nepalese youngsters, below, he picks up donated goods at the town hall well into their six-month work placements with JB Riney, the council's highway maintenance contractors, and Bouygues Energy Services. Another four are in placements in council teams in office work.

Cllr Danny Thorpe, the council's cabinet member for regeneration and transport, said: "This is a very successful scheme, and it's a win-win for all involved. Young people not in work can receive valuable training and gain experience that could set them on the path to a worthwhile career. At the same time, residents throughout the borough are benefitting from having our more minor roads repaired, updated and improved for the benefit of everyone."

GRATEFUL: Nepalese community leaders Sonia and Fatta Thapa sort and pack items donated by borough residents

// We are feeling proud of the effort everyone has made //

Edward Akrouit has also promised to attend the fund-raising dinner for the appeal at Woolwich Public Hall on Friday, June 19. Thirty tickets for the £25 a head event have already been sold, with another 150 still available. Entertainment on the night includes music, a fashion show, and authentic Nepalese food.

● For more information or to book tickets for the fundraising dinner email annthapa@yahoo.com

● Local businesses have also continued to play their part in the appeal after an approach by Council Leader, Cllr Denise Hyland. A number have answered the call for help by donating money to cover the cost of transporting the donated goods to Nepal. So far AEG and Berkeley Homes have donated £5,000 each, Canary Wharf Contractors have given £3,000 and GIC have given £1,000. An autumn charity ball is also being arranged by Surinder Arora of the new 'Intercontinental by Arora'.

Sniffer dog tracks down illegal tobacco

SMOKED OUT: Jack the sniffer dog who discovered the illegal tobacco in Bozkurt's jacket, below

by Dick Townsend-Smith

A CHARLTON trader who was selling illicit Polish tobacco has been fined £3,250 after a sniffer dog found cigarettes and rolling tobacco hidden in the lining of his jacket.

Ozcan Bozkurt pleaded guilty at Bexley Magistrates' Court to offences under the Consumer Protection and Licensing Acts.

The court heard that Bozkurt sold a packet of Polish cigarettes to an undercover investigator who went into his store, Bobeyi Supermarket, in The Village. A sniffer dog later found 17 packets of Polish Marlboro Gold cigarettes and nine packets of foreign labelled Golden Virginia hand-rolling tobacco in the lining of Bozkurt's jacket. More packets of foreign tobacco were found under the shop counter.

The offences which Bozkurt admitted included having tobacco on sale which had been imported without payment of duty or which might otherwise have been illegally imported. As well as the fine, he was ordered to pay £1,520 costs.

The prosecution was part of the council's campaign against illicit tobacco sales.

Since 2013, it has been working with five other South-east London boroughs to tackle the sale of illegal tobacco, after a survey of 1,700 smokers found that an estimated 114 million illegal cigarettes, with a street value of more than £22m, were sold annually in the region.

Cllr Jackie Smith, the council's cabinet member for community safety and environment, said: "The sale of illegal tobacco and alcohol has many damaging effects on local communities and honest business owners. It's an illegal practice that dodges the taxes paid by lawful traders and brings increased health risks that can only undermine the huge work done in education and in helping people quit."

Cllr Denise Scott-McDonald, cabinet member for community wellbeing and public health said: "The availability of cheap illegal tobacco is a potentially big factor in recruiting young smokers and keeping older people smoking. We believe there is a clear link between the availability of illegal tobacco and high smoking rates."

● People can report the sale of illegal tobacco by contacting the council's Trading Standards service on 020 8921 8223 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

All singing...

ALL ages were in fine voice for a community concert at Mulgrave Primary school last month.

The free concert was a joint venture with Mulgrave Primary School choir, the Woolwich Singers community choir and Plumstead Manor steel band (pictured below). Mulgrave dance club also gave their inaugural performance. Local people filled the school hall and the choirs sang to rapturous applause, especially when Mulgrave choir joined Woolwich Singers to sing Roar by Katy Perry and the 1980s classic, Eye of the Tiger by Survivor. Wendy Young, founder of Woolwich Singers, said: "When the community comes together in music and song, how beautiful is that?"

"It was a joy to share the evening with Plumstead Manor steel band and the always wonderful Mulgrave Primary School choir."

Arsenal's Gatehouse is open for business

SPACE TO WORK:
homeworkers enjoy the range of facilities at Space@the Gate

THE historic Gatehouse, entrance to the Woolwich Arsenal, has been given a new lease of life as a hot-desk office service.

Run by South East Enterprise (SEE), which provides business support to local firms, it is aimed at local business people who work from home and do not need or cannot afford a full-time office.

Tony Goldstein, SEE managing director, said: "Because working from home can often be unstimulating, isolating and even downright difficult with so many potential distractions, it's very hard to get anything done. So the Gatehouse can provide a desk in a modern comfortable room, high-speed internet access for your own laptop or mobile device, and a choice of four break-out meeting spaces if you want to see a client, make a call or have some thinking time to yourself.

"There is a fully equipped kitchen chill-out room and tea and coffee is included in the price of £12 for half a day and £18 for a full day. You can buy a block booking of four days per month for just £60."

One of the users is Gina Gibson, a director of Bedshack, which sells bespoke beds and bedroom furniture. She said: "It's brilliant, and an absolutely fantastic service. We have found it invaluable for the business. We are using it about four times a week and it's made a huge difference to the way we run our business."

Mr Goldstein added: "Hot-desking is very popular and we wanted to be able to offer a very cost-effective service to local businesses that would give them the opportunity to flourish in a stimulating environment with like-minded people and support close by if needed. We want the Gatehouse to be a real business community space."

● The service, called 'Space @ the Gate', operates Monday to Friday from 9am to 5pm. Half-day sessions are from 9am to 1pm or 1pm to 5pm. Full day sessions are from 9am to 5pm. Appeals for helping hands in Volunteers Week

THIS week is National Volunteers Week, and one local Greenwich scheme that is looking for support is the Volunteers Supporting Families project.

This recruits, trains and matches local volunteers to support families who are known to the council's Children's Safeguarding teams.

Working closely with the council, the volunteers have been able to transform the lives of the families that they have been supporting. They have brought routine into chaotic homes, worked with parents to improve school attendance, helped with behavioural issues, improved budgeting skills and encouraged links within the local community. Most importantly, the volunteers have offered support and a friendly listening ear to some of the most vulnerable people in the community.

More information about the project is available at the Woolwich Centre library tomorrow (Wednesday, June 3) between 10am and 4pm.

There is a special stand, and staff will be able to talk about volunteering opportunities. No previous experience is needed, but people interested should be over 18 years old.

● To find out more about becoming a volunteer email Fiona.Summers@volunteermatters.org.uk or call 020 8921 6163

Volunteers have offered support and a friendly listening ear to some of the most vulnerable people in the community.

● THE Volunteers Centre Greenwich is thanking its members with a special awards ceremony for National Volunteers Week.

All members are invited to get involved in the Recognition 100 Award Scheme, which is the centre's way of recognising the hours and the contribution volunteers make. The event takes place on Thursday (June 4) at the town hall in Woolwich where the Mayor Cllr Norman Adams will award certificates thanking volunteers for their contribution to the organisations they have given time to and the Royal Borough of Greenwich.

Yesterday (Monday June 1) the centre was due to host a volunteering fair in General Gordon Square to promote volunteering and to recruit volunteers.

Today (June 2) it's running another stall outside ASDA in Charlton to encourage residents to sign up to look at what volunteering opportunities we have available to them in the borough.

All the signs of a best-seller

Local students help devise new children's book

by Dan Stephens

A NEW children's book written by a best-selling author with help from royal borough students has hit the shelves across the country.

Julia Donaldson developed her latest children's book with students from Greenwich-based charity Life and Deaf is an award-winning not-for-profit organisation that supports deaf children and young people to explore their identities through poetry, film, performance and art with support from the royal borough.

What the Jackdaw Saw, is a story about sign language, acceptance and friendship with illustrations by Nick Sharratt and has been published by Macmillan Children's Books.

It follows a writing workshop back in 2012 with Julia, who was then the Children's Laureate and author of the famous Gruffalo books, and students from Thomas Tallis, Shooters Hill Post 16 Campus, Our Lady of Grace and St Thomas More RC Secondary. The 20 young people, all of whom had experienced hearing loss, had the unique opportunity to work with Julia to create What the Jackdaw Saw, which will appeal to deaf and hearing children alike.

Author Julia Donaldson said: "Working with the children at Life & Deaf to create What the Jackdaw Saw was a highlight of my time as Children's Laureate and it is such a pleasure to see the ideas formed in the workshop brought to life with Nick Sharratt's bright and accessible illustrations. I hope that this book about sign language, acceptance and friendship will appeal both to deaf and to hearing children."

Seventeen-year-old Kayleigh Goacher, one of the young deaf poets, added: "It is really important that books, as well as television, media and so on, include diversity, especially disability and deafness. We were all grateful that Julia Donaldson decided to take some time to work with us; without her support and help, we wouldn't have created this wonderful book."

Jane Thomas, one of three voluntary directors of the Life & Deaf Association, said: "Life & Deaf believe that every child should be able to recognise themselves in popular culture and literature, that each child should find a book, a poem, an illustration where they see themselves reflected. What the Jackdaw Saw uses gorgeous animal characters, who squeak, dance, prance, strum, sway and play but these characters almost all communicate using sign language; if the Jackdaw wants to join in the fun, he's going to have to learn to sign too!"

● For further information about the charity, visit www.lifeanddeaf.co.uk 'What the Jackdaw Saw' is available in local libraries, shops and online at www.panmacmillan.com

Advocacy in Greenwich

Advocacy In Greenwich wants everybody to have rights, choices and chances; be able to say what they want and be heard and to be part of the community. We will work together with people with learning disabilities and/or physical disabilities to change the way people think so that we can make this happen.

Sessional Advocate

£12 - £16 per hour (dependent upon experience)

We are looking for experienced advocates to work across a range of projects delivering one to one advocacy to adults with a learning disability.

The role will include providing advocacy to parents with a learning disability during child protection and care proceedings and adults with a learning disability whose day service and/or residential service is changing.

The role requires a commitment to working in empowering ways that supports people with a learning disability to make choices and changes, and be in charge of their lives. You will need energy and enthusiasm, good communication skills, flexibility and an ability to think and work creatively.

This is an opportunity to join an organisation that offers a range of high quality advocacy services.

It's 'All That Jazz' at Eltham

THE showbiz bug bit hard and loud when a local group staged a performance of the Broadway hit 'Chicago' at Middle Park in Eltham.

The Performing Arts Project is one of 13 council funded community-based daytime projects based at specially-adapted venues. They are designed to give people with disabilities the chance to get involved in a wide range of activities and learn new skills. And many of the projects, including Performing Arts, have been developed in partnership with local community and third-sector organisations.

Other projects will include pottery, IT, horticulture, and sport. They are all due to be up and running by July. One is in Abbey Wood where people with profound physical and learning disabilities can take part in art activities such as painting and drawing. The Performing Arts Project is due to move to specially-adapted premises in Charlton later this year.

Cllr David Gardner, the council's cabinet member for health and social care, said: "These new projects represent a radical change in the services we offer to adults with serious disabilities. The range and level of opportunities that we will now be able to offer is wider and more flexible than ever before. It's a major departure from the old-style day centres, and ties in with our commitment to providing people with disabilities with genuine choice over how they lead their lives."

GREENWICH TALL SHIPS FESTIVAL

BOOK YOUR TALL SHIP CRUISE NOW ROYAL GREENWICH, 27-31 AUGUST

London's maritime heart, Royal Greenwich, is home to the Tall Ships Festival this August. Near the iconic tea-clipper Cutty Sark, several large Tall Ships will be moored on the Thames.

There will be a selection of cruises on the river, taking you from the Greenwich Heritage Centre and the Woolwich Royal Arsenal Pier past the lovely sights on the banks of the Thames including The O₂, the Old Royal Naval College and Canary Wharf, and a host of majestic ships, including the third largest sailing ship in the world, Dar Młodzieży. For a more exclusive experience, board one of the two VIP cruises with a spectacular evening fireworks display all the way to Tower Bridge, or a grand parade of Tall Ships through Greenwich with a farewell salute at Royal Arsenal.

There is also a range of hospitality packages offering cruises and deck parties on some of the largest Tall Ships to have ever visited London. We've teamed up with the Tall Ships Festival to offer readers a free drink with voucher code GREENWICH.

All together

ROYAL Greenwich hosts its annual festival of local services and organisations known as the Great Get Together, it's a chance to get information on local services. The Get Together also features a variety of attractions and entertainment. The event is free, and most of the time the summer showcase of community also incorporates the royal borough's Armed Forces Day reflecting the borough's history which date back almost three centuries. What's to come...

VISITORS to this year's Great Get Together will be treated to three new attractions.

Residents can experience underground caving with trained helpers at a caving trailer; they can learn all about Nepalese crafts and get a taste of Nepalese food and they can meet live llamas.

There's a chance to meet your local councillor in a council services marquee and dozens of community and charity marquees, have-a-go sport sessions, crafts and food stalls as well as displays in two arenas and a performance stage.

The Great Get Together includes the royal borough's celebrations for Armed Forces Day and is one of the UK's largest events. To mark the 200th anniversary of the Gurkhas aiding the British Army, there will be a performance by the Band of the Gurkhas. Firepower's World War One trench also makes a return visit.

Around 30,000 people are expected to the grounds of the Royal Artillery Barracks Field, Repository Road from 11am to 6pm.

Arena events will include:

- Veterans' parade
 - Band of Gurkhas
 - Dog and falconry displays
 - Llama handling
 - Motostunts vehicle stunt show
 - The Tigers Parachute Display Team. (Subject to weather, spectators watch at their own risk)
- Around the showground visitors can enjoy a

Nominate your 'Veteran of the Year'

A HIGHLIGHT of Armed Forces Day is the presentation to the royal borough's Veteran of the Year and locals have until June 15 to make a nomination.

The award is given to a military veteran who lives in the borough who deserves 'special recognition.' It's presented by the Army to a former serviceman or woman who is judged to have contributed the most within the borough.

GT is looking for nominations of people who have served in the Army, Navy, RAF or Royal Marines. Nominees' names can be put forward by their family, friends or colleagues. Nominations can be for someone who has contributed to a particular organisation, has been involved with fund raising (particularly for local charities), their local community or for anything else considered worthy.

Nominated individuals must have had military service and live in the borough.

● Nominations should be sent to the Station Commander, RA Barracks, Repository Road, Woolwich, SE18 4BB. Please include the details of the person nominated, reason why they have been nominated, a brief service history and contact details of the person making the nomination, including, name, telephone number, address and email.

- Healthy living zone and sports try out sessions
- Armed Forces stalls
- Vintage cars and motorbikes
- Chainsaw wood carving
- Children's crafts
- Caving attraction, zorbing balls and lazer tag
- Family fun fair and more!

Major Gerry Porter MBE told GT: "A significant part of our tradition is the link between the military and the royal borough. Armed Forces Day is an ideal opportunity for us to get together and celebrate.

"It is also really important to recognise our veterans and the Veteran of the Year Award is one way of showing that appreciation. We encourage anyone who has a family member or friend that is a veteran and deserves recognition to get in contact and nominate them."

Council leader Denise Hyland said: "The Great Get Together is a time to highlight and promote council and local support services and bring everyone together to share in fun activities. We have a long and proud military heritage in this borough and it's fitting that we also mark that connection with an event to celebrate and honour the armed services."

Book feast a real treat

ROYAL
FESTIVALS

GREAT oaks from little acorns are born. And so it is with ideas, Patricia Nicol's speculation to build a book festival in Christopher Wren's Old Royal Naval College, particularly apposite. "No-one is more surprised that we are," Patricia told Scene smiling, "we've done things we never expected". Hosted by the University of Greenwich and a part of the Royal Greenwich Festivals, this three-day event welcomed 100 writers.

"We wanted a festival that programmed ambitiously but felt welcoming and was accessibly priced," she went on. With the help of a friend, Auriol Bishop, creative director of Hodder, Patricia succeeded, attendees queuing up as if for the Booker Prize. There was newly successful, Jessie - The Miniaturist - author Jessie Burton, Wellcome book prizewinner Marion - The Iceberg - Coutts and Jon Ronson of - You have Been Publicly Shamed, fame. Patricia was obviously delighted: "The first I approached was south Londoner, Jessie Burton ... but in fact, nobody really said no". The festival's structure was equally varied from workshops for children - How To Make Awesome Comics - and a talk from Steven Butler, about The Diary of Dennis The Menace - to debates around whether "History Lives". Three prominent authors proffered a personal perspective, a brief insight to the psyche of authors.

All three agreed on the importance of research, Anna Hope, whose debut novel, Wake, The Observer called, "a master class of historical fiction" reading "for two years before writing". Her novel, a portrait of three lives intertwined, captured the sense of a new era being born. Rory Clements' recent novel, Holy Spy, the latest in his bestselling series of Tudor spy stories featuring John Shakespeare, elder brother of William, concurred strongly notwithstanding that "everything is ultimately, fiction". Antonia Hodgson, her debut novel, The Devil in the Marshalsea, a backstabbing, blood-curdling, mystery, spoke of hours spent "in libraries" and the discipline "to know when to stop". But one thing they agreed on was expressed without words, their passion and desire to write. Unquestionable, unambiguous and completely without question, a force of nature that united all three.

Minor logistics notwithstanding, the acorn has seeded, we look forward to the sapling to come.

MORE than 300 Eltham locals displayed their creative talents for Eltham Arts' latest competition - 'A postcard from Eltham.'

Winners were announced at a recent celebratory event to mark the end of the competition, which challenged locals to design a postcard showing the town as an attractive and creative place to live, work or visit.

Gaynor Wingham, chair of Eltham Arts, said: "We were delighted with the response from adults and children to the challenge to design a Postcard from Eltham. The entries were really diverse celebrating Eltham today but showing a love of our fantastic Eltham heritage. With well over 300 entries the judges had quite a task and this is reflected in how many awards were given."

A display of the 70 winning postcards is on display in the Eltham Centre, moving to New Eltham library in a couple of weeks. People can buy mixed packs of six post cards at Eltham library for a donation of £5 to Eltham Arts.

For more info on Eltham Arts, visit www.elthamarts.org

Meanwhile, a project to create a lasting photographic legacy of the local area is now well underway - and local residents are being called on to help contribute. The Eltham Society is creating a photographic archive of events and places in Eltham during 2015 that will give a flavour of Eltham to future generations.

Some of the photographs will be shown at the "Eltham in Pictures" exhibition in February 2016.

BIDDING FOR PROPERTIES

People on the Housing register are able to bid for all properties, regardless of their banding. You must be eligible for the size of property and bids will be considered in the following order:

First Band A, followed by Band B both in priority date order.

Those in Band C will then be considered in registration date order.

Please note that there will still be some properties with age restrictions so only people of this age group can apply for these.

- A is for applicants in unsatisfactory housing, including people moving due to demolition and those underoccupying their homes.
- B is for applicants the Royal Borough of Greenwich must prioritise according to the law, particularly homeless people, and others with an urgent need to move for medical or welfare reasons.
- C is for all applicants on the housing register, including those that are in priority bands A and B.

How do I apply?

Get on the list

First, you've got to be on the housing waiting list to join the scheme. If you're not, register an application on line at www.royalgreenwich.gov.uk

Find your applicant number

It will be on the letter you've already had from the Royal Borough of Greenwich about the new scheme. You'll need that number and the reference number of the property you're after, which will be on the advert.

Pick out your ideal property

by looking in Greenwich Time or regularly checking the website:

www.royalgreenwich.gov.uk/homes

Click on your preference on the website. If you don't have a computer, you can always use one for free at either The Eltham or Woolwich Centre or a local library.

Apply in one of three ways

- Text bidding is now available and the number to use is 07786207913. For further information please see page 2, or
- Phone the 24-hour hotline 020 8921 4340. It's an automatic push-button system and calls will be charged at the normal local rate, or
- Via the Royal Borough of Greenwich's website www.royalgreenwich.gov.uk/homes

IMPORTANT NOTICE FOR ROYAL BOROUGH TENANTS WHO ARE MOVING

DON'T GET A BILL AFTER YOU LEAVE

Under the conditions of your tenancy agreement, you have a responsibility to leave your property in an acceptable state of repair. We may visit you to check this. If we consider your property is in an unacceptable condition, you may be prevented from moving or be recharged for work.

To avoid getting an unwelcome bill, follow these rules:

- Repair any damage caused to the property by you, your family or visitors to your home.
- Make good any changes you have made to your property e.g. put back any doors that you have removed.
- Make sure your garden is not overgrown and you have cleared all garden waste.
- Clear all your items from the inside and the outside of the property. This includes any loft space, external cupboards or sheds.
- Return all the keys to the Royal Borough's offices no later than midday on Monday (or Tuesday if it is a Bank Holiday). You will be charged a further week's rent if you do not return your keys on time.

If you leave repairs that are your responsibility, or items that require disposal you will be charged the cost of this work.

Special Collection Service

The Royal Borough offers a Special Collection Service for tenants who are moving and want to dispose of something big and bulky, like a sofa or a fridge, and even unwanted clothes and other textiles.

Simply contact Waste Services on 020 8921 4661 and tell them where you live and what you would like taken away.

Items we will collect include:

Fridges, freezers, washing machines, beds, sofas, clothes and carpets (carpets must be cut up and tied into manageable bundles that one person can carry).

Items we DO NOT collect include:

Fitted kitchens, bathroom suites, boilers, sheds, fences and rubble.

For further information, please contact Waste Services on 020 8921 4661.

Please leave your home in a good condition!

HOW TO BID FOR ADVERTISED PROPERTIES BY TEXT

If you would like to bid by text, please use the following Text Bidding Number: 0778 620 7913 and type:

CBL, the property reference number and your applicant number.

The property reference will be on the advert and your applicant number is on the letter we sent to you when you registered for housing.

A successful bid will look like this:

CBL 179104 12191

You will need to do a separate text for each property you wish to bid for and the text is charged at your mobile provider's standard rate. You will receive a text response to confirm your bid within 5 minutes.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Please note you must tell us as soon as possible if there is any change in the information you have given on your form. If you do not do so, your application will be invalid.

Please note that households cannot claim housing benefit for heating or hot water charges.

GreenwichHomes

Royal Borough of Greenwich's Choice Based Lettings Scheme

IMPORTANT POLICY INFORMATION FOR THOSE AWARDED PRIORITY

When a priority is awarded, you will receive one offer of accommodation.

The following rules are used to allocate properties to applicants in Bands A, B and C, to make sure the Council makes best use of housing stock to meet needs.

- Two children (whatever gender) under 10 years old can share a bedroom
- Two children (same gender) under 16 years old can share a bedroom
- Two children of opposite gender where at least one is 10 years old or over need a bedroom each
- Each person over 16 years old needs their own bedroom
- A couple and lone parents need one bedroom
- Expected babies are counted as a person from the six month of pregnancy
- Band C applicants - Houses are allocated to a household with children (aged 15 or under)

Only RBG tenants who currently occupy houses in bands A and B, will be considered for rehousing to another house. All other priority applicants will be considered for flats or maisonettes.

Note: There are separate Allocations Policies for applicants with priority from regeneration areas.

Like for Like Moves

Council tenants housed through priority Bands A & B, are generally offered a similar type of property to that they currently occupy, of the size they require. This is because rehousing is being offered to meet safety or other needs, rather than to provide more desirable housing. Tenants, who want to move to improve the quality of their accommodation, must do so through Band C, where applicants are housed in date order.

For full details on our policies, please see the Allocations Scheme which is available on the Royal Borough of Greenwich website

O'Reilly hits golden jackpot

GOLDEN GIRL: Ellis proudly displays her trophies, inset, the teenager in action on the bars

SPORTSMEN will tell you that retaining a title is always much harder than first winning it. Seventeen-year-old Irish National Gymnast Champion, Ellis O'Reilly, from South East London, is no different.

"This year is her first year as a senior although she is managing the pressure really well," her mum Jackie told Greenwich Time. Ellis returned to Limerick last month and remarkably, managed to take gold once again. "Despite the huge pressure", her mum went on proudly, "she took gold for Overall Champion, Golds for Floor and for Bar and a fourth gold for the Irish Team Event. "We're so proud of her", Jackie continued, "but now it's back to her training, six days a week, before the next competition, in Belgium".

Ellis supported by Starting Blocks, the royal borough charity set up to support up and coming athletes. She's also part of an Irish sporting dynasty with 19-year-old sister Jenna, a silver medalist at last weekend's England Elite Boxing Championships in Liverpool and youngest brother Reggie, 12, winning "best away boxer" at the Sundridge Park working man's club. But for Ellis next up are the World Championships in Ireland and with luck, a place in Rio next year. "Now that would be something", her mum added.

From 10am to 1pm residents can take part in free toddler tennis, mini tennis, inclusive and adult sessions delivered by a qualified LTA coach. The SLSL will also be delivering inclusive, fun and enjoyable sessions suited to a range of disabilities.

The courts at Hornfair Park have been recently refurbished with new flood lights and a new and exciting range of regular tennis courses at the park will be starting on the June 16 offering adults and young people alike opportunities to play. A brand new initiative called Nike Tennis Tuesdays (female only sessions) will also be launched alongside the upcoming sessions.

Cllr Miranda Williams the royal borough's cabinet member for culture and creative industries told GT: "The events organised at Hornfair Park for Great British Tennis Weekend will undoubtedly offer a huge amount of fun for everyone in the family – there is such a range of sessions available that young or old, male or female, there will be something for everyone. I encourage everyone to get involved with the regular tennis sessions that will be taking place over the coming months.

"The recently refurbished courts at Hornfair are absolutely first class and have been delivered as part of our 2012 Olympic Legacy and the £3m investment in a sports hub in the park which has already established a redeveloped lido, and BMX park."

● For more information please contact Charlton Lido on 0208 856 7389 or visit www.better.org.uk/leisure/charlton-lido or visit Hornfair Park, Shooters Hill Road, London SE18 4LX.

Royal Borough of Greenwich Audit of Accounts for the year ended 31/03/15 Notice of Public Rights

Each year the Royal Borough of Greenwich accounts are audited and any person interested has the opportunity to inspect and make copies of the accounts and all relevant documents. For the year ending 31st March 2015 these documents will be available on application to the Finance Directorate, Chief Executive's Department, 3rd Floor The Woolwich Centre, 35 Wellington Street, Woolwich, London SE18 6HQ. Alternatively, please email strategic-accounting@royalgreenwich.gov.uk.

The accounts will be available between 10.00am and 4.00pm weekdays from Tuesday 9th June 2015 to Monday 6th July 2015.

Notice is also given that on or after Tuesday 7th July 2015 until the completion of the audit, local government electors for the Royal Borough of Greenwich local authority area and their representatives may exercise their rights under section 15 of the Audit Commission Act 1998 to question the auditors about the accounts. These must be made in writing and sent to the auditor at the address shown below.

Local government electors for the Royal Borough of Greenwich local authority area and their representatives may also object to the Royal Borough of Greenwich accounts under Section 16 of the Audit Commission Act 1998 asking that the auditor issue a report in the public interest (under section 8 of the Audit Commission Act 1998) and / or apply to the court for a declaration that an item in the accounts is contrary to law (under section 17 of the Audit Commission Act 1998). Written notice of a proposed objection and the grounds on which it is made must be sent to the auditor at the address shown below and a copy sent to the Royal Borough of Greenwich.

The audit is being carried out by Susan M Exton, Director, Grant Thornton UK LLP, Grant Thornton House, Melton Street, Euston, London NW1 2EP and will be conducted under the provisions of the Audit Commission Act 1998 and the Accounts and Audit Regulations 2011.

ROYAL GREENWICH FILM FESTIVAL 19TH – 21ST JUNE 2015

Full Film Festival details at www.royalgreenwich.gov.uk/filmfestival

Adult Learners

RAVENSBOURNE on the Greenwich Peninsula is providing a range of free taster sessions on Saturday, June 21, as part of Adult Learners Week.

They include an Intro to Film Making workshop for adults aged 19 and older who are interested in learning the basic practical requirements to make a short film, including equipment, course structure, and a showcase of past films.

There is a one-hour session on Building Your Own Website with WordPress that outlines the basics. The full course will provide you with the skills necessary to successfully create and run your own website or blog. There is also a one-hour introduction to Adobe InDesign, Photoshop and Illustrator, and another on an introduction to Vectorworks for 3D interiors and architecture.

● To register, go on the Ravensbourne website at www.ravensbourne.ac.uk/news-and-events/events/2014/06/free-1hr-taster-short-courses

HADLOW College Equestrian Skills Centre on Shooters Hill and its nearby Horticulture Centre has events planned for Adult Learners Week.

The Horticulture Centre has two taster sessions on an Introduction to Gardening planned for Monday, June 15. The first is from 10am to noon. The second is from 1pm to 3pm.

They will cover the basics of the college's Introduction to Gardening course and all participants will come away with a planted seedling, bulbs, or herbs. Booking in advance is required. Call Sally Cheeseman on 01732 853163 or email Sally. Cheeseman@hadlow.ac.uk

The Equestrian Skills and Riding Centre will be hosting a free community open day on Saturday, June 13, as one of the Adult Learner Week events.

Visitors are asked to book tours in advance. They can meet the horses between 10am and noon, and 1pm to 4pm. There will be husbandry displays by students in the stables and riding demonstrations in the indoor arena.

The students will also demonstrate bandaging and therapy on fibreglass horses, and run an equestrian careers table, with information about different careers in the equine industry. The centre's therapy centre will be open for viewing, together with classrooms and a display of the students' work.

● To book a free tour to meet the horses, visit www.hadlow.ac.uk or call 020 8331 3410

GCC hosts community arts festival

GREENWICH Community College is hosting a Community Arts Festival at their Greenwich Park Campus, King George Street on Saturday June 6.

The event is an ideal opportunity to try your hand at arts and crafts in the taster sessions, enter a competition to win a free ACL course, and shop for bargains at the craft fair. Families will be extra welcome, and the event promises some special family learning activities where everyone can get involved!

David Beechinor, who organised the event said: "We have been focused on making sure that that everyone can 'have a go' at crafts including ceramics, painting and even first aid. We're sure that there will be something to suit the whole family."

● This free event will run from 10am until 4pm. Directions and a map to the campus can be found at

GLOBAL Solution Services will be running a Retail Course in the royal borough as part of Adult Learners Week. The course is available and fully funded for any Greenwich resident (adult -aged 19+) and would be suitable for anyone who is considering applying to work in Retail, or those wanting to brush up on their skills to make them more competitive with applications.

It is a 3 day course running on June 11, 18 and 25 at the Eltham Centre, Archery Road, SE9 1HA. There is a degree of flexibility when it comes to timing to help participants with other commitments.

● For more information call Global Solution Services on 020 8665 4297

It provides high quality training to organisations of all sizes and supports individuals to gain industry-recognised and required qualifications.

The Charlton-based centre is fully equipped and offers hands on training for the construction trades including carpentry, painting & decorating, plastering, dry-lining, tiling. The centre is accredited to run many different qualifications through City & Guilds, CSCS. Practical training is supplemented with information and advice about working in the construction industry.

The centre is currently recruiting for two courses – a six-week Getting in Construction course and a week-long CSCS health and safety course. Both are free to eligible individuals over 19.

City Lit

FROM art, astronomy and languages to health, music and web design plus many, many more – City Lit offers more than 5,000 courses at times to suit everyone whether they want to learn in the daytime, evening or weekends.

There are several courses taking place across Adult Learners Week. On June 18 a 'Making the most your money workshop' is taking place from 10am to 12noon, where participants can find out how to balance family budget and learn which bargains really save money.

Also on June 18 there is a 'Stressbusting workshop' from 1pm to 3pm. This interactive workshop will enable you to lower stress levels and make time to yourself in a busy week. You will learn tips on coping with stressful situations.

These events take place at the Clockhouse Community Centre, Defiance Walk, Woolwich Dockyard London SE18 5QL

On June 19 10am to 1pm a 'Choices Information event' takes place. You can find out about courses and training, computers, ESOL and literacy, childcare, health and social care, admin and business, work skills, volunteering and much more. The event take place at Woolwich Library, the Woolwich Centre SE18 6HQ.

● You can contact enrolments on 020 7831 7831 and email info@citylit.ac.uk

THE Greenwich Community Learning Champions are organising the Great Greenwich Community Quiz, which will run from June 15-26. The quiz will be a fun way to find out more about the local community, facilities and learning opportunities across the borough of Greenwich. It will have lots of challenges to complete and places to visit (or research online) to find the answers. The quiz can be done online or on paper, and if you are on Facebook or Twitter, you can join in that way too.

Anyone can take part, and you do not have to answer all the questions to submit your entry - all participants will receive a prize!

The winner will be announced at the Great Greenwich Get Together on Saturday June 27. Taking part is free - there will be copies of the quiz available at taster sessions across the borough during Adult Learners' Week.

● For further details you can contact Lorelei at Volunteer Centre Greenwich tel. 020 83173817 or email lorelei@volunteergreenwich.org

COMMUNITY Systems is a training provider that works with individuals and employers to enhance and develop work skills and promote progression into and within employment. The next round of courses and their dates will be confirmed in the coming months.

Previous courses have
